By the kindness of Major Green we had an opportunity of examining Floral Hall to day at a time when the public were not present, and we most heartily indorse the universal judgment, that no Fair can have surpassed this in its productions of feminine skill. There are many things we should like to describe at length, but fear we should expose our ignorance too strongly; we see and admire the results, but are at a loss to describe how they are produced. One of the objects that excites the most attention is an imitation Marseilles quiit, a home-made article, the work of Mrs. Ramsey, of Carroll county. The design is Ramsey, of Carroll county. The design is donkey, one of them guiding the patient creation, dam Gleriana by Sclipson.

THE ELECTIONS - The result of the late elections is to be greatly regretted; it is use-less to seek the causes which led to this unfor-tunate defeat. Whatever the causes may have been, they have produced their effects, and should now be remedied if possible. Success in the future can only be obtained by harmony of action from this time forward. Let the dis-of action from this time forward. Let the dis-sensions of the party be healed; let crimina-rions; and union in the future.

While we see in the late result much to repret, we find nothing to cause despondency.

Defeat has heretofore been the forerunner of a most glorious triumph; it was thus two years prior to Mr. Buchanan's election, and so will the result be in 1860, if from this time forward all portions of the Democracy seek harmony and union.
